Overview

About the application

myWMS LOS is an Open Source Warehouse Management System (WMS). It is designed for manual operated warehouses and helps optimization of warehouse processes by means of mobile devices.

Since March 2009 the software is published under the GNU General Public licence 2 or newer.

This Documentation contains more information about working with the application. It is available in German also.